A Word from the President
Dear friends, colleagues and partners, 2018 marked Dianova’s twentieth anniversary, an event which saw us celebrate 20 years of our network, during which Dianova International has provided material aid, advice and expertise to its member organizations.

To mark this anniversary, a symposium was organized in Lisbon (Portugal), attended by around 100 colleagues and guests on the theme of “Network learning: trends and challenges for NGOs in the 21st century”. This event allowed us to share knowledge, exchange thoughts and above all increase the visibility of the work that we have been doing for all these years in the areas of health, education, equality, social support and socio-professional reintegration, to name but a few. We’ve travelled through the past whilst making plans for Dianova’s future and as a result, we have been able to gain a better understanding, not only of what we have accomplished, but also of the problems that we still have left to overcome.

2018 was a successful year. First, in line with our open policy at the Dianova Network, four new organizations formally joined the network during our General Assembly: the Kothowain Organization (Bangladesh), Izsatu (Turkey), the Karim Khan Afridi Welfare Foundation (Pakistan), and the Association of Friends for Human Development (Togo). It has also been a great year in terms of international relations and advocacy activities: our representatives have participated in more than one hundred events, meetings and expert panels, in 12 countries across the Americas, Europe and Asia, to raise awareness of our activities and uphold our commitments. Finally, the work carried out by our ordinary members only helped over 26,000 people this year, whilst an estimated four million people have been impacted by our campaigns!

I would also like to highlight that, more than ever, we endeavour to work towards the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and its goals, and more particularly eradicating poverty and hunger, promoting health and education, implementing genuine equality between men and women, reducing inequalities, supporting sustainable towns and communities, working for peace and justice, and carrying all of this out through effective partnerships.

You will find all of these goals and their different targets throughout this report, since each activity carried out by the network has been assessed based on its contribution to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and their targets.

At the end of the year, our network is stronger, better organized and prepared, more united, and more resilient, thanks to all the organizations that it is made up of. On a final note, I would like to thank all those who have contributed to making our network, through their efforts, services and experience, an international point of reference in its different fields of expertise.

By Mary-Christine Lizarza
Letter from the Director
Among Dianova International’s various commitments, institutional relations are one of its highest priorities. After our organization received special consultative status with the United Nations Economic and Social Council (ECOSOC) in 2007, our teams worked hard to advocate before international institutions and organizations. There are several objectives to that work: increase the impact of interventions by Dianova’s network members, defend humanitarian principles in Dianova’s areas of action, ensure that good practices become sustainable policies at the national and international levels, and, lastly, reinforce the role of civil society organizations in public policy-making.

2018 was a particularly successful year in this area. Dianova’s international representatives were elected or re-elected as members of several international committees. Henceforth they occupy positions of responsibility in the New York NGO Major Group (NGOMG) and the Vienna NGO Committee on Drugs (VNGOC), two platforms that each include hundreds of member organizations. NGO Major Group aims to facilitate participation and commitment from non-governmental organizations in activities directly or indirectly related to the High Level Political Forum on Sustainable Development, whereas the primary mission of the VNGOC is to act as liaison between NGOs working in the addiction field and the Vienna United Nations agencies involved in drug policy-making. There are of course many more and this report includes a complete list of Dianova’s affiliations.

Another interesting development in 2018: as representatives of civil society, we decided to expand our work in Geneva, Switzerland. Geneva is host to many United Nations specialized agencies and organizations that, in turn, have brought some of the most prominent international non-governmental organizations now playing a key role in multilateral negotiations. The City of Calvin is a key location for NGOs; it is here that are held the most important debates on human rights, gender equality, and other themes falling within Dianova’s areas of interest. For these reasons we moved our Lausanne headquarters to the John Knox International Centre, headquarters of many NGOs, including the Conference of NGOs in Consultative Relationship with the United Nations (CoNGO), of which Dianova is a member. The John Knox Centre is located near the principal multilateral organizations seated in Geneva, such as the European headquarters of the United Nations, the World Health Organization, and many others.

We hope this transfer to Geneva will enable us to expand our contribution to the work of international organizations in our field. As representatives of the third sector, we hope to join other NGOs and NGO networks to leverage our common mobilization capacities in strengthening dialog and building on key issues such as gender equality, social development, and a human rights-and public health-based approach to addressing substance use disorders.
Who We Are
Dianova International or Organization Internationale Dianova is non-governmental organization that is international in scope, as established by the European Convention dated 24 April 1986 on the Recognition of the Legal Status of International NGOs. Dianova International is subject to Swiss Law; its headquarters is located in Lausanne (Switzerland) and its operating unit in Castelldefels (Spain).

Dianova International supports a network of 26 associations and foundations dedicated to the development of people, communities and organizations, and operating in 20 countries and four continents.

Our ethical framework is grounded in the following values: commitment, solidarity, tolerance and internationality.

Areas of Activity
Support to the Dianova Network
Promoting a culture of institutional development based on the exchange of knowledge

Dianova International is responsible for defining the Dianova Network policy standards and for supporting its members through:

- Public relations activities that aim to publicize the work of the Dianova Network among international organizations, the general public and other NGOs;
- The exchange of knowledge, skills and experiences among its members in various areas of common interest;
- Technical support, consulting and training services for its members (strategic and operational areas).
Institutional Relations & Advocacy

Sharing best practices and creating partnerships to give civil society a stronger voice

Dianova International’s activities help give civil society a voice in international institutions and promote its role in addressing various causes including:

- The development and implementation of person-centred, public health-based, diversified addiction prevention and treatment modalities (including residential treatment approaches based on the therapeutic community treatment model);
- The implementation of inclusive health services that respect gender equality and incorporate a gender perspective;
- The development of action plans that promote social inclusion and reduce the stigmatization of the most vulnerable populations (migrants and refugees, homeless people, people who use drugs, people with mental health problems, etc.)

Resource Mobilization

Highlighting the values shared by the public and private sectors to help create partnerships that promote organizational self-reliance

Dianova International’s resource mobilization strategy aims to diversify funding sources through partnerships based on:

- Requests for financial support from the public and private sectors;
- The development of campaigns designed to increase the network’s social impact, in collaboration with the private sector;
- The creation of partnerships and the development of projects designed to contribute to the Sustainable Development Goals.
- An active participation in committees and NGO platforms dedicated to promoting private-third sector partnerships.

The Dianova Network

The Dianova network is the name given to the set of Dianova International’s member associations and foundations, regardless of their status (ordinary, associate or affiliate members).

The 26 members of the Dianova Network focus their action on the most vulnerable populations while contributing to the Sustainable Development Goals in six key interrelated areas:
• Education, Children & Youth – education is a fundamental right; the members of the Dianova Network are committed to promoting the learning of essential skills and abilities. Read Dianova’s position paper on this issue: EN ES FR

• Addiction, Mental & Physical Health – members of the network develop individualized programmes based on health promotion, with the aim of promoting people’s self-reliance. Read Dianova’s position paper on this issue: EN ES FR

• Social & Humanitarian Support – member organizations promote community-based initiatives that foster social justice and empower the most vulnerable populations. Read Dianova’s position paper on this issue: EN ES FR

• Partnerships & Cooperation – partnerships are a cross-cutting element critical to the Dianova Network’s commitment; partnerships help promote the participation of civil society in decision-making processes. Read Dianova’s position paper on this issue: EN ES FR

• End of Poverty – the Dianova Network is committed to addressing the causes of poverty and supports the implementation of solutions that strengthen social inclusion. Read Dianova’s position paper on this issue: EN ES FR

• Gender Equality – gender equality is a prerequisite to human development, this is why women’s empowerment is a cross-cutting issue in all its programmes. Read Dianova’s position paper on this issue: EN ES FR

Summary of Outcomes
Dianova &
the Sustainable Development
Goals

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) form the core of the United Nations’ 2030 Agenda. This action plan is based on a perspective of social, economic and environmental development which translates into three main principles: put an end to all forms of poverty, fight inequalities, and address climate change, all the while making sure “to leave no one behind”, as stated by the United Nations.

Although it is the responsibility of the various governments to take control and implement the national frameworks necessary to achieve these goals, all social and development actors must also take action, including NGOs, the private sector and civil society as a whole.

Dianova International and its members contribute to the 2030 Agenda:

- Through their activities in support of education, training, gender equality, physical and mental health, addiction treatment and prevention, and social and humanitarian action, and the impact of these activities on various SDGs and targets;
- By disseminating information to the general public about the SDGs, via Dianova’s web site, social media pages and other publications;
- By implementing or participating in SDG-related advocacy initiatives among international organizations.

Mutually-reinforcing
Goals

The goals of the 2030 Agenda are intrinsically linked and mutually reinforcing. For example, improving women’s education in a specific country has a positive impact on their children’s health, their families’ prosperity and the economic growth of the country as a whole. The cross-cutting nature of the 2030 Agenda is also present in the Dianova network’s various areas of activity. The commitment of a given Dianova member organization towards a specific group is likely to influence other areas too: for example, putting a roof over the heads of homeless people can also allow them to improve their health and consider undertaking vocational training.
For this reason three cross-cutting element are present in most of the activities implemented by the Dianova network:

- Partnerships and cooperation – this element is critical to the Dianova network; not only are partnerships necessary to develop common projects but they also help promote civil society participation in decision making processes.
- End of poverty – the Dianova network is committed to addressing the causes of poverty and supporting the implementation of solutions against social exclusion.
- Gender equality – this element is critical to achieve global development and the Dianova network is dedicated to promoting gender equality to improve people’s lives.

Summary of Outcomes

In 2018, the activities of the ordinary members of the Network directly benefited 26,508 people (9,003 direct beneficiaries and 17,505 indirect beneficiaries). In addition, the estimated audience of the campaigns implemented by Dianova International (media and social networks) was more than 4 million people. (See details page 69)

The network’s activities contribute to several of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and their specific targets through activities in three main intervention areas and various cross-cutting areas.

In addition, the organization’s mental health facility in Delhi, implemented under the auspices of the regional government, has been dedicated to provide children facing enormous challenges (abandonment, neglect, violence, sexual abuse, etc.) with housing services and psychosocial follow-up, contributing thus to target 4 of SDG 3.

Programmes for the homeless are an important part of the organization’s activities. In Delhi, SPYM runs 60 shelter homes providing food and health care to homeless people, thus contributing to SDG 1 (No poverty) target 2 and SDG 2 (Zero hunger) target 1. These programmes also focus on social reintegration through group support, vocational training, and skill and employability workshops, therefore contributing to SDG 10 (Reduced inequalities) target 2. Gender Equality & Women’s Empowerment

Dianova-organized parallel event at CSW62 (New York)
Throughout the world, women continue to face discrimination in many areas: civil, economic, social, cultural, etc., while gender inequality is one of the major obstacles to education and training, and development. To meet these challenges, Dianova addresses the issue of gender equality as a transversal issue in all of its programmes and activities. This commitment is reflected at several levels:

- Provision of information: by making the general public more aware of the international commitments in this area, by recalling the progress of policies against gender inequalities and by highlighting the remaining challenges (equal pay, political representation, access to education, etc.).
- Advocacy: Dianova representatives advocate gender equality and women’s and girls’ human rights at international meetings. These actions are most often conducted in partnership with other organizations.
- Integrating gender perspectives: most of Dianova’s programmes are geared to meeting women’s specific needs and challenges, for example regarding the programme’s opening hours or the possibility to attend with their children.

Women and Addiction

Women with substance use disorder are on average more stigmatized, face greater economic challenges and have less social support than men. They are also more likely to have drug-using partners, which increases their risk of being exposed to blood-borne infections or violence and may constitute a barrier to treatment. Finally, when they have children, the latter can play an important role in their recovery process.

Goal 10, target 3: Ensure equal opportunity and reduce inequalities of outcome, including by eliminating discriminatory laws, policies and practices and promoting appropriate legislation, policies and action in this regard.
Dianova’s advocacy work for gender equality is being implemented mainly from the organization’s delegation in New York, where the headquarters of the UN agency dedicated to promoting the empowerment of women, as well as the most active NGO platforms and networks are located.

Dianova International is a member of the New York NGO Committee on the Status of Women (NY NGO CSW), a committee representing more than 100 organizations and individual members, whose mandate is to advocate gender equality and women’s empowerment among UN Member States.

The 62nd session of the Commission on the Status of Women (CSW62) was held in New York from 12 to 23 March, with over five thousand participants. For the seventh year running, Dianova’s representatives took an active part in the Commission and participated in the NY NGO CSW Planning Committee. In addition, Dianova International participated in 5 side events at CSW62, gathering an audience of about 400 people:

- 12 March: Promoting Mental Health and Well-Being for the Advancement of Women - organized by the World Federation for Mental Health. Dianova’s intervention emphasized the importance of integrating the mental health dimension into all issues related to the Sustainable Development Goals, to meet the needs and ensure the well-being of women and girls living in rural areas. See the event’s flyer.

- 13 March: Education for Sustainable Development: a Tool to Empower Rural Women and Girls - the main event organized by Dianova presented the challenges and progress made in children’s educational programmes on gender equality, peace and citizenship implemented by Dianova Chile and Dianova Nicaragua.

- 16 March: The Role of Education to Achieve Gender Equality among Refugee Women in the United States - event co-hosted by the Southwest Dialogue Institute and Dianova.

- 16 March: Women’s Mental Health in the Face of Disasters and Conflict - an event co-hosted by the NGO Committee on Mental Health and Dianova.

- 23 March: Media portrayal of Intimate Partners Violence - organized by the American Psychiatric Association, the International Psychoanalytical Association and Dianova.

Lastly, as an NGO in consultative status with ECOSOC, Dianova International issued a written statement prior to the opening of the session entitled: “A Call to End Structural Gender Inequalities in Rural Areas.” The text can be downloaded from the ECOSOC website - French, Spanish and English versions are available on Dianova’s web site.
Other Events.

- 13 noviembre: On the occasion of the International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women, Dianova was invited to participate in the webinar, “Sexual Harassment: the risk of not taking action in the workplace”, organized by the team of We Empower. Presentation by Dianova of an information and recommendations document published as part of its campaign “UNITE to End Gender-based Violence” (see Campaigns and Communication section). The other panellists represented UN Women and the International Labour Organization.

- Finally, it is worth noting the publication by the Women’s UN Report Network (WUNRN), a United Nations global documentary resource on women’s issues, of several articles published on Dianova’s web site.

Goal 5, target 1: End all forms of discrimination against all women and girls everywhere.

Goal 5, target 5: Ensure women’s full and effective participation and equal opportunities for leadership at all levels of decision-making in political, economic and public life.
Dianova advocates the implementation of person-centred, gender sensitive, evidence- and public health-based approaches to addressing substance use disorders and drug policy. The Dianova Network also promotes the implementation of diversified treatment models capable of addressing the needs of all people, including the therapeutic treatment model historically implemented by many of Dianova’s treatment facilities.

Dianova also wants to draw attention to the necessity of adapting addiction treatment programmes to the growing number of people with dual disorders, i.e. addiction and other mental illness.

Lastly, Dianova is committed against the death penalty for drug-related offenses and against the “war on drugs” policies. The organization has endorsed a number of statements to this effect during the year 2018.
Dianova’s representatives attended the formal sessions of the Commission as members of civil society; in addition, Dianova co-organized and participated in three side events:

Presentation of the work of Dianova, the current trends in drug consumption, and Dianova Portugal’s good practices in residential treatment.
Mental Health

Dianova believes that efforts to achieve SDG 3 (Good health and well-being) should prioritize the full range of health services, including promotion, prevention, treatment, rehabilitation and palliative care. For this reason, governments must, through a multisector and multi-stakeholder approach, strive to eliminate the social, cultural and economic barriers to a complete access to affordable, quality physical and mental health care services for all people.

In addition, stigma and discrimination of people with substance use and other mental health disorders is still a common occurrence in today’s society, in the workplace and even within health care services. This is why Dianova’s work in this area aims to promote more efficient approaches to addressing co-occurring substance use and mental health disorders, including within prevention, primary care and treatment modalities.

Goal 3, target 4: By 2030, reduce by one third premature mortality from non-communicable diseases through prevention and treatment and promote mental health and well-being.

Dianova International has played an active, advocating role in these areas through its delegation in New York and its membership in the Executive Committee of the NGO Committee on Mental Health since September 2017. As such, Dianova’s representative participated in the Committee’s monthly meetings and in the organization of several events including:

- 11 January, New York (USA): participation in a special meeting of the Committee on Racism, Intolerance and Mental Health.
- 12 March, New York: “Promoting Mental Health and Well-Being to Help Women’s Progress”, side event of the Commission on the Status of Women (CSW62), with an intervention by the representative of Dianova International (see Gender Equality and Women’s Empowerment Section).
- 12-23 March, CSW62, New York: Participation in two panels sponsored by the World Federation for Mental Health and the NGO Committee on Mental Health.
Education, Children & Youth

Education is a fundamental human right and an essential element of the social and economic development of individuals and communities. Quality education is a key element of efforts to reduce poverty, improve the health and living conditions of people, and build more inclusive, peaceful and sustainable societies.

Education is therefore a cross-cutting element in all of Dianova’s activities and advocacy work. Representatives of the organization participated in two important events:

- 30-31 January, New York (USA): Participation in the ECOSOC Youth Forum on “The Role of Youth in Building Sustainable and Resilient Urban and Rural Communities”.

Goal 4, target 5: By 2030, eliminate gender disparities in education and ensure equal access to all levels of education and vocational training for the vulnerable, including persons with disabilities, indigenous peoples and children in vulnerable situations.

Partnerships & Cooperation

Dianova actively promotes the role of civil society in international organizations through its advocacy work, the creation of dedicated spaces for their participation and the implementation of mechanisms for civil society organizations’ integration.

In addition, Dianova International prepares and implements collaborative projects between civil society organizations and the public and private sectors, in a spirit of openness of close partnership, taking advantage of the resources and skills of different actors.

NGO Major Group

The NGO Major Group is one of the most important forums for promoting partnerships and cooperation between civil society organizations, bringing together nearly 1,000 NGOs. Its purpose is to facilitate the participation and engagement of NGO in activities directly or indirectly related to the High-Level Political Forum on Sustainable Development (HLPF), the largest UN monitoring and review platform of the 2030 Agenda.
As a member of the NGO Major Group, Dianova was selected this year to be part of the Global Organizing Partners, one of the most important coordinating functions of this group. This commitment is reflected in the participation of Dianova’s representative in the group’s monthly meetings, the coordination mechanism of the HLPF, in the working groups dedicated to social networks, and in advocacy actions (participation in the development of joint position papers, preparation of the evaluation process, dissemination of survey results, etc.).

Highlights
- 23 January, Paris (France): meeting of the NGO-UNESCO Liaison Committee. Under the auspices of the committee, Dianova also participated in the survey on the dialogue between Member States and NGOs at UNESCO during the month of July.
- 11-12 April, Tbilisi (Georgia): participation in the 4th Partners for Review network meeting with 85 participants from 26 countries representing governments, civil society, the academia, private sector, United Nations agencies and other international and regional organizations.
- 16-20 April, Santiago de Chile (Chile): participation of Dianova Chile’s and Uruguay’s representatives in the meeting of the Economic Commission for Latin America and the Caribbean (ECLAC) on “The role of civil society in the 2030 Agenda”.

Dianova joined a coalition of 14 NGOs gathered around themes associated with peace, justice and inclusion. The coalition presented a statement highlighting, among other things, the tendency to reduce civil society participation, as well as the need to increase youth training and women’s empowerment to improve their participation in decision-making forums.
- July 8-19, New York (USA): participation in the High Level Political Forum on Sustainable Development (HLPF).
- 18 September, New York (USA): participation in the 73rd session of the United Nations General Assembly, which opened the new sessional period.
- 5-7 November, Berlin (Germany): Participation in 5th Partners for Review’s network meeting with 126 participants from 48 countries.

Partners for Review (P4R)

Partners for Review se estableció en el primer Foro Político de Alto Nivel, a iniciativa del gobierno alemán. Se trata de una plataforma en donde hay múltiples partes interesadas a nivel trasnacional que buscan consolidar las competencias y simplificar el intercambio de conocimientos entre diferentes países y actores (gobiernos, sociedad civil, mundo académico, sector privado, Naciones Unidas y otros organismos internacionales y regionales) con el fin de promocionar el proceso de revisión de la Agenda 2030 para el Desarrollo Sostenible.
Social & Humanitarian Support, Addressing Inequalities

Dianova is committed to work with vulnerable or excluded populations by promoting greater social justice and the implementation of solidarity actions aimed at reducing the obstacles that these people face and improving their autonomy. In the area of its advocacy commitment, Dianova wants to influence social policies aiming for an equitable distribution of resources and for guaranteeing that all people can access public and essential services that enable the achievement of human potential.

In the field of migration, Dianova calls for the recognition of the enriching nature of the natural phenomenon of human migrations and that the latter no longer be considered as a threat, but as an opportunity for development.

Goal 17, target 17: Encourage and promote effective public, public-private and civil society partnerships, building on the experience and resourcing strategies of partnerships.

As part of its social and humanitarian commitment, Dianova has been a member of the NGO Committee on Migration (CoM) since 2016. This platform aims to protect and promote the rights of migrants, refugees, stateless persons, internally displaced persons and victims of human trafficking. In 2018, Dianova participated in the work of the Subcommittee against Xenophobia and Social Integration and played an active role in the preparatory work for the Global Compact on Migration, a comprehensive framework for management and cooperation on issues related to migration, whose final draft was approved on 13 July at the United Nations headquarters (New York).

Goal 10, target 2: By 2030, empower and promote the social, economic and political inclusion of all, irrespective of age, sex, disability, race, ethnicity, origin, religion or economic or other status.
Goal 10, target 7: Facilitate orderly, safe, regular and responsible migration and mobility of people, including through the implementation of planned and well-managed migration policies.
Campaigns & Communications
To mark the International Day against Drug Abuse and Illicit Trafficking, on June 26, the member organizations of the Dianova Network in 13 countries joined together for the #QuitStigmaNow campaign. The aim of the campaign was to raise awareness of the physical and psychological consequences of stigmatization and of the social rejection of people who are gripped by the problems of substance abuse or behavioural addictions. The campaign also aimed to encourage implementing approaches to treatment and prevention of addictions, which are more respectful of human rights and individual needs.

- Go to the #QuitStigmaNow campaign: English, Spanish, French

Through the use of images and messages, the target audience (general public, health professionals, decision-makers, businesses, and media companies) was invited to follow different recommendations which aimed to fight against stigmatization, before sharing these messages and content with other people via their own channels. Finally, #QuitStigmaNow made available three documents to download which offered an overview of the situation and recommendations to fight against stigmatization in three specific areas:

- Stigmatization in the media: EN, FR, SP
- Stigmatization in the workplace: EN, FR, SP
- Stigmatization in the health services: EN, FR, SP

Impact on the SDGs

Goal 3, target 5: Strengthen the prevention and treatment of substance abuse, including narcotic drug abuse and harmful use of alcohol.

Due to the stigmatization that they are subjected to, a lot of people dealing with substance abuse are hesitant to look for help and can be discriminated against within health services. Dianova contributes to SDG 3, target 5, by fighting against stigmatization and prejudices linked to alcohol abuse or other drug use and, as a result, facilitating access to treatment.
Addiction treatment services that do not differentiate between men and women whilst on site is a form of discrimination (the premises are not adapted to women’s specific needs and expectations). By emphasizing the need to implement solutions that are adapted to individual needs, particularly to those of women, the campaign works towards SDG 5, target 1.

The stigmatization of drug users and addicts is a clear obstacle to their social and economic inclusion; it is discrimination linked to their health, and even against their lifestyle choices. Dianova contributes to SDG 10, target 2 by highlighting the need to respect the dignity of people affected by substance abuse and aiming to improve their access to health services.

Between November 25 (International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women) and December 10 (Human Rights Day), Dianova ran a campaign which involved 16 days of activities to inform people about violence against women and make the public more aware about the #StopGenderViolence cause.

Violence against women and girls is a serious violation of fundamental rights. There are many negative effects on women's physical, mental and sexual health, which can be immediate or long-term, and can even result in death. Violence has negative effects on the overall well-being of women and can lead to varying degrees of social exclusion.
The Campaign Concept
By way of six illustrations, or vignettes, in a comic book style, the campaign invited the public to share the vision of the 2030 agenda by looking at the present in 2018, from the viewpoint of those in the future, in 2030. By 2030, the aim is to live in a more just society, where violence against women and girls is not tolerated at all. But what was it like before?

Let’s take a look at six specific situations:

- Women treated as objects
- Domestic violence
- Sexual harassment in the workplace
- Sexual violence
- Access to education
- Equal pay

The campaign has been rolled out online across social media platforms and businesses, and also off-line locally, with a trial partnership with eight restaurants and printing illustrated placemats and posters. Finally, the #StopGenderViolence campaign provided two documents to download in several languages, which included recommendations in the following areas:

- 10 recommendations for preventing domestic violence: EN SP FR IT PT
- Preventing sexual harassment in the workplace: EN SP FR

Lastly, the text on preventing sexual harassment in the workplace has been used in a presentation during a webinar organised by We Empower (see the International Relations and Advocacy section)

Impact on the SDGs
The aim of the campaign was to contribute to the vision of the 2030 Agenda regarding gender equality (SDG 5): “achieve a world where women and girls enjoy full equality and where all legal, social and economic barriers to their empowerment have been removed”.

Goal 5, target 2: Eliminate all forms of violence against women and girls in the public and private spheres, including trafficking and sexual exploitation, amongst other types of exploitation.

35% of women in the world have been subjected to physical and/or sexual violence by an intimate partner or sexual violence by another person during their lifetime. The #StopGenderViolence campaign directly contributes towards SDG 5 Target 2.
Out of all the women across the world who have been victims of homicide, almost half were killed by a member of their family, compared to less than six percent of men killed during the same year (2012 figures). By highlighting gender discrimination and stereotypes, the campaign helps towards SDG 16, Target 1.

To a more or less large degree depending on the country, patriarchal social structures keep women on the outside of the education system, limit their access to employment, and prevent them from taking positions of responsibility or with equal pay. Several of the frames in the campaign highlight this state of affairs and call for change which also, therefore, goes towards SDG 10, Target 3.

Goal 16, target 1: Significantly reduce all forms of violence and related death rates everywhere.

Goal 10, target 3: Ensure equal opportunity and reduce inequalities of outcome, including by eliminating discriminatory laws, policies and practices and promoting appropriate legislation, policies and action in this regard.

Outcomes of the Campaign

Over the course of the year, the operations management team carried out a revamp of the organization’s website, in conjunction with an agency, SocialCo, specializing in NGOs and which built the first version. Still available in three languages, the new site is clearer and easier to navigate, whilst highlighting the partnerships that Dianova hopes to put in place within the private sector. The site has kept its “Who we are” section, the advocacy articles, the “Publications” and “News” sections with more than one thousand latest news articles or opinion pieces related to the network that can be searched by topic.

New sections of the site
The areas of Dianova Network’s activity that are linked to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) are available on the Home page: education, children and youth - health, mental health and addiction – social and humanitarian support - partnerships and cooperation – end of poverty - gender equality.

Each of these sections is described on a separate page and includes the social impact of the network’s activities and Dianova’s position on each topic (see paragraph Dianova Network, page 20).

- A new page offers an introduction to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) as well as a list of goals impacted by the network’s activities, along with the title of each one;
- The new section Addiction Treatment directly addresses individuals who are facing problems related to substance abuse and offers detailed descriptions of the services offered by Dianova’s International Addiction Treatment Centre;
- The section “act” now offers different ways of contributing to Dianova’s work, including the page “Becoming a Partner,” make a donation, contribute to a project, become a volunteer, different ways of supporting Dianova available to businesses, as well as the possibility of making a joint bequest or legacy;
- A new press room collates the latest press releases, institutional publications, industry position papers, and the latest campaigns, announcements and videos from the organization, on a single page.
Institutional activities
Event: 20 years of the Dianova network

To commemorate the 20th anniversary of the network, an event was held to celebrate 20 years of collaborations, exchanges and commitment to the most vulnerable populations, and to promote social change. Entitled “Learning network – Trends and Challenges for NGOs in the 21st century,” the symposium was held in Lisbon (Portugal), on 29 June, and was sponsored by the city council. Over 80 people from the four corners of the world gathered in the CUIL auditorium (Lisbon Urban Information Centre).

The symposium allowed everybody to remember and learn from the past, but also to look towards the future of the Dianova organization, taking into account the many economic, social and technological challenges that it faces.

Speakers

• The event was opened by Dr João Goulão, Director General the national Service on Addictive Behaviours and Addiction in Portugal (SICAD). Dr Goulão presented a history of drug use and addiction treatments in Portugal.
• Palaeontologist Ignacio Martínez Mendizábal then took us on a journey through time to unearth the essence of human evolution. His presentation “To know where we are going, first we must know who we are” provoked an important debate amongst participants.
• Montse Rafel, director of Dianova, presented the highlights of Dianova’s history over the last decades, evidencing the evolution and transformational power of Dianova and its teams.
• Luca Quaratino, a researcher specialising in organizational development, demonstrated the importance, for a social entity such as Dianova, of having a coherent and solid organizational identity in order to face the challenges of the future.
• Carlos Azevedo, economist and Academic Director of the IES Business School, highlighted the importance of networking as part of a viable strategy for the future. Mr Azevedo presented the innovative collaborative and social enterprises model.
• Mercedes García, Doctor in organizational sociology and Director of the marketing agency Semántica Social, emphasised the opportunities afforded by the digital age and the need for a social organization such as Dianova to develop effective online interactions.

The symposium was closed by Dr Ricardo Fuertes, member of the Lisbon City Council for Education and Social Rights, and Mary-Christine Lizarza, President of Dianova International. The day ended with a meal for all participants, and the activities to mark the anniversary of the Dianova network continued the following day with a visit from the therapeutic community Quinta das Lapas to Torres Vedras, attended by the Dianova teams, as well as the press and representatives of the municipal and local authorities.
Other than their statutory obligations, such as approving Dianova International’s reports and annual accounts, delegates of Dianova’s member organizations also approved the incorporation of four new members at their assembly on 28 June. This includes a new affiliate member, the Turkish organization IZSATU, and three new associate members: the Karim Khan Afridi Welfare Foundation of Pakistan, the Groupe de Réflexion des Amis pour le Développement de l’Humain (Reflection Group of Friends for Human Development-GRADH) of Togo and the Kothowain association of Bangladesh (see Network Members chapter).

Taking into account these new members, Dianova International’s network includes 8 ordinary members, 7 affiliate members and 8 associate members. Thanks to these new partners, the network can have a bigger social impact while its knowledge base, practices and networking experience are growing and are the subject of continuous discussion.
In 2017, Dianova International reformulated its resource mobilization strategy to diversify its funding sources and become more sustainable. Since then, one of the areas of major focus has been researching and applying to grants from public institutions and private foundations, with the aim of financing international projects belonging to the Dianova Network’s members and being overseen by Dianova International. Such a strategy was not only aimed at making the organization increasingly self-sufficient and financially viable, but it also intended to create opportunities for collaborations among its members and foster, in each of them, a strong sense of belonging to the common purpose of the Network, the SDGs and the Agenda 2020.

In 2018, Dianova International’s Project Department located in Barcelona (Spain) created great value to the Network’s members by establishing relations with potential donors and actively assisting six members in responding to a total of 22 international calls for proposals, eventually obtaining financing for five requests. Following the five successful processes, the Project Department assisted the Network’s members in coordinating project implementation, monitoring and evaluation, and financial and technical reporting to the funding sources.

During 2019, the Project Department anticipates to fortify the collaboration among Network members by involving them in multi-stakeholders proposals and assisting them in further building up the Network’s response to the objectives of the Agenda 2020. Having more active projects will ensure more funding is available to implement activities profiting the beneficiaries living in the 21 countries where the Network’s members are operating.

Aid and development NGOs have become much more professional in recent years in order to adapt to an increasingly competitive sector, and to respond more efficiently to the needs of target populations. In order to guarantee the continued existence of its organization, Dianova International shall rely on sound human resources, ensuring the sustainability of its resources, emerging talent and training, the feeling of belonging, work-life balance and, finally, gender equality. Special attention has been placed on the last point, as the majority of its network members have a plan to promote equality.

Social reality, and the reality of the employment market, varies according to whether you are a man or woman, as many studies and analyses have shown. Integrating a gender perspective within HR management requires a proactive attitude. It’s not enough to say that there is no difference. There needs to be a positive impact, no matter how small, through the promotion of gender equality. For that reason, this year Dianova International has developed a self-assessment questionnaire allowing each organization to work out where it stands in this area, whether internally in its management plan, or in the implementation of its programmes and activities.

The data collected from the seven member organizations (Dianova Uruguay, Dianova Chile, FAPE-Congo, Dianova Italy, Dianova Portugal, Dianova Spain and Dianova Canada) have shown that:

- 86% of these organizations specifically mention gender equality in their statutes as a value to be promoted;
- 100% have recruitment procedures and criteria based on the principles of gender equality and non-discrimination;
- 72% promote applications and appointments of men and women to positions where they are underrepresented, at all levels of the hierarchical structure;
- 100% take the principal of gender equality and non-discrimination into account when allocating additional remuneration;
- 86% avoid gender-stereotyping when evaluating the performance of their HR and also take personal and familial responsibilities into account;
- 86% use inclusive and non-discriminatory language in their promotional and corporate documents;
- 86% disseminate information relating to employees’ rights and duties with regard to gender equality and non-discrimination and maternity/paternity in the appropriate locations;
- 86% develop preventative measures against workplace harassment.
